THE FUTURE BANKER'S CAMP

Rewarding career path in financial services

(MIAMI, January 11, 2012) – The South Florida Workforce Investment Board (SFWIB) awards $25,000 towards the Miami Dade College's Future Banker's Training Program to expose high school juniors and seniors to careers in the financial services industry.

The Miami Dade College School of Business and the Center for Financial Training's Future Banker's Camp is designed to tap into the talent of 20 students from low-income neighborhoods and prepare them for a career in the financial services. The students' math and communication skills are enhanced through college-level course work and participants land entry level jobs at the completion of the internship with partnering financial institutions.

"The Future Banker's Camp affords students to be prepared and become acquainted with basic elements of finance, which ultimately will have a positive impact on their livelihood, overall performance in school, their readiness for employment and actual employability success," said Rick Beasley, executive director for South Florida Workforce Investment Board.

Upon successful completion of the program, students are eligible to receive the American Bankers Association (ABA), American Institute of Banking (AIB) Bank Teller Certificate. This national industry standard certificate meets the educational requirement for the certification exam offered by the Institute of Certified Bankers (ICBA). Students who graduate from high school are eligible for Miami Dade College's Vocational Certificate and can work towards an Associates of Science degree in Financial Services.
